Great benefits for MICE industry

Did you know Taiwan has been voted the second best international adventure destination, trailing only South Africa and followed by India, Thailand and New Zealand. Its capital city – Taipei has been named Asia's best leisure destination in the latest 2020 Leisure Lifestyle Award survey released by U.S. – headquartered Global Traveler, a business travel magazine.

Warm and welcoming nation

Taiwan has been found to be very friendly and welcoming towards foreign residents. Tourist-friendly policies such as easy visa options, availability of venues for hosting events or incentivised travel – Taiwan offers it all for convenience of travellers.

Taiwan is safe to travel for MICE

India is one of top priority countries for Taiwan for business and travel. The main reason is boom in MICE in India and increased business travel. With Taiwan emerging as one of the top global destinations for MICE, this partnership is predicted to last long.

Business activity started surging in Taiwan as the country eased restrictions on international travel end of June for foreign business travellers from low or moderate-risk countries intending to visit Taiwan. The travellers can stay for up to three months provided they meet the criteria set by The Central Epidemic Command Centre.

Taiwan has also allowed visitors for medical treatment as the COVID-19 pandemic is well-controlled there and the country has the medical ability to help international society. Taiwan is safe to travel and we welcome you to experience the beauty and natural wonders.

Best for business and tourism

During the post-pandemic period, MICE visitors are keen on having more outdoor adventures like mountain climbing or ocean side activities. Taiwan is an island with 368 mountains higher than 3,000 metres high. It is an ideal destination for post pandemic MICE. Not to mention Taiwan Tourism Bureau is promoting year 2020 for mountain tourism and year 2021 for bicycle tourism.

With continuously updated convention infrastructure, latest technology and end-to-end services available in Taiwan, the nation has been able to establish itself on the global MICE map. In the recent few years, Taiwan has witnessed an upsurge in the MICE activity and recorded more footfalls. The central and state governments, local industry, academia and the people of Taiwan, all have been pushing the cause of choosing Taiwan for MICE purposes.

From jaw-dropping landscapes and picturesque coastal scenery, to rich cultural heritage and exquisite beauty, Taiwan is a land of endless discoveries. NIGHTLIFE

Neon-lit street and hidden-away bars with pumping music and break-of-dawn crowds, Taiwan is a country that comes alive at night.

Frank Taipei

YEN Bar

SaoBao Bar & Kitchen

Belon Kaohsiung

If New York is the city that never sleeps, Taiwan may very well be the country that never sleeps. Few places on earth are as atmospheric and as exciting as Taiwan at night.

Taiwan's nightlife isn't just about bars, discos and lounges, it's also about night markets, KTVs, and even 7-11s and parks!

WHERE TO RELAX AND WIND DOWN

Even though there are plenty of bars to chose from in Taipei, you should definately give YEN Bar (31F, W Hotel, No. 10, Zongxiao East Road) a try. Toast to the bright Xinyi lights of sprawling Taipei skyline through soaring floor-to-ceiling glazed walls from your perch on the 31st floor. Open daily from 14:00.

Whisky lovers in Taipei can taste the entire spread of Kavalan's whisky offerings directly from the barrel. The sleek Kavalan Whisky Bar (104, Nanjing East Road, Section 2), allows customers to taste 21 expressions of whisky produced by Kavalan, including several rare products. Open daily from 19:00.

Those preferring a trendy rooftop bar with great vibes and atmosphere, Frank Taipei (10F, ATT 4 FUN, No. 12, Songshou Road) is one of the best places for a fantastic view over Taipei 101. Open daily from 21:00.

Taichung

Moonlight (25F, No. 77, Shizheng Road) is an exclusive open-air rooftop bar is the ideal location for post-work drinks with friends. Savour an indulgent experience as you explore the wine list, enjoy local and craft beers, sip single malts or watch the moon comes up. Open daily from 20:00.

Unlike many restaurants or bars in Taichung, SaoBao Bar & Kitchen (No. 202, Minzu Road) is situated on the ground floor of the Reddot hotel. Highly recommended and the chill-out atmosphere, nice fusion local food with great cocktails and Taiwan crafted beer, makes this a venue not to be missed. Open daily from 20:00.

Kaohsiung

Belon Kaohsiung (No. 39-1, Chenggong 2nd Road) is an atmospheric restaurant, hidden beside the Shin Kong Wharf behind the Kaohsiung Exhibition Hall and the 85th Building. There are private yachts moored by the harbor. In the hot summer, if you are worried about the sun, you can choose to dine in the indoor space. Open daily from 17:30.

Pier No. 1 (15F, No. 4, Zhongshan 1st Road) is by far the best skybar yet in Kaohsiung. Good location, nearby to MRT station. It's not the highest among all the buildings but it's decent enough to see the night view of the city. Open daily from 18:00.

MUST TRY

Re-chao restaurants are a staple of Taiwanese cuisine. Meaning “hot stir-fry,” these beer houses are loud, messy, and full of mouth-watering fried food served fast and hot. Best of all, they’re cheap!

Perhaps the loudest and messiest of all is Pin Xian (No. 68, Leli Road, Taipei 106, Taiwan), located near Liuzhangli MRT. It’s usually packed full of locals getting saucy in the evenings alongside in-the-know foreigners.

NIGHTCLUBS

Sun’s down, moon’s out. And you wonder what is there to do – other than visiting another night market, that is. For you young, wild and free souls out there, the Taiwan actually has a pretty insane – and underrated – nightlife scene with a whole bunch of exciting clubs.

Barcode (5F, Neo 19, No. 22, Songshou Road) is one of the most happening bars in the capital city of Taipei. Standing tall at the fifth floor, Barcode offers panoramic views of the Xinyi district from its spacious balcony. Groove to the beat as the music plays inside and the people dance to the tunes of jazz, funk, new wave and other beats. Its sparkling atmosphere and the London-trained expert mixologists add to the liveliness by serving a unique range of champagne cocktails and making your visit to the place worth it. Open daily from 21:00.

AI Nightclub (No. 12-7, Songshou Road) is located in ATT 4 Fun building, focusing on loud, mainstream EDM and electro, flashy lights and drinks, and a younger, local crowd who goes hard and then home once or twice a week. Open Wed-Sun from 22:30.

It’s virtually impossible to neglect the spacious interior once inside ALTA (No. 59, Qinghai South Street, Taichung City 40764). They focus on EDM and electro, so if you want to party all night long, this is the place to be. Open Wed-Sun from 22:30.

KTVs

The runner-up to the universal popularity of the night market is KTV, or karaoke. Popular KTV chains are Party World and Holiday KTV, but if you do some digging (or walking around) you can easily find independent alternatives. While the clientele are almost exclusively concerned with singing quirky Taiwanese pop tunes, most KTV locations will have more than enough English options to keep you busy for considerably longer than your voice will be able to manage.

SHOPPING

Hip districts full of indie stores and massive malls with hundreds of outlets. Day-time markets and late-night bazaars. Taiwan shopping defies definition.

INCENTIVES

Get the most out of your visit to Taiwan with attractive incentive promotions that includes welcome gifts, financial aid for performances and executive assistance.

Fly-cruise incentives

Taiwan Tourism Board (TTB) extends incentives to group travellers and provides easy visa options to groups. It is an endeavour of the TTB to provide the best travel experience to visitors. Continuing with this tradition, multiple incentive schemes have been put in place so that you can visit Taiwan fuss-free and make the most of your trip.

1 Free-visa Entry

Taiwan allows for a "Travel Authorization For Certificate for Nationals from Southeast Asia" (Visa conditional-free entry), currently suspended due to the outbreak.

https://niaspeedy.immigration.gov.tw/nia_southeast

The free-visa entry can be easily obtained online upon fulfilment of some basic requirements. The process is further made smooth for the Permanent Residency holders or visa holders to any of these countries – Australia, Canada, Japan, Korea, New Zealand, any of EU and Schengen countries, the United Kingdom, or the United States.

2 Group Visas

Free Group Visas can be issued for groups of 5 people or more and includes people part of Escorted tours, Incentive Tours or Fly-cruise groups. The visa is valid for 14 days each time. Multiple-entry visas are available for the tourists who join the Fly-cruise group tours. To be eligible, an ordinary passport valid for more than six months must be held. Submit the escorted tour applications to the Tourism Bureau with required documents at least 7 days before arrival. If the date of arrival on the visa entry field of the passenger is inconsistent with the actual date of entry, and there is no accompanying Tour Leader to confirm the members of the tour, or a plane (or ship) ticket for the return trip cannot be produced, the National Immigration Agency shall refuse entry. The duration of stay cannot be extended.

See page 7 for more information on how to apply.

Applicable to cruise lines with a fly-cruise schedule that includes accumulated layovers in Taiwan of 48 hours or more.

US$10 subsidy for each cruise line's fly-cruise passenger entering Taiwan.

300 < pax	US$30/pax
600 < pax	US$50/pax
700 < pax	US$70/pax

3 Fly-cruise Incentives

The purpose of these Directions for Fly-cruise Incentives from the Taiwan Tourism Bureau is to promote Taiwan's fly-cruise development by encouraging international cruise lines that combine flights and cruises into packages to use Taiwan as one of their ports of call for global passengers.

Cruise operators that wish to apply for a subsidy must complete their ship-calls in Taiwan. The calculation of the approved subsidy is based on the actual entry, mooring at Taiwan's ports for 48 hours or more, and total number of fly-cruise passengers. Once approved, subsidies will be remitted directly into the bank account nominated by the cruise companies. Refer to the website for details.
